2.3.3.	Debt securities	face value	on the period's average portfolio: 0.30% p.a.

¹ Calculation of the price data for the fee calculation period:

In the case of securities issued in Hungary

- In the case of securities listed on the Budapest Stock Exchange (BÉT) – with the exception of collective investment securities – the last closing price recorded in the fee calculation period,
- in the case of collective investment securities the net asset value per investment unit last disclosed in the fee calculation period,
- in the case of OTC securities the last available price disclosed by a professional data service provider (in particular REUTERS, BLOOMBERG), or in the absence of such price, the average price
- in the case of securities for which no price information can be obtained from the above sources, the face value.

In the case of securities issued abroad, the price disclosed, in accordance with data available on the international markets, by a professional data service provider (particularly, REUTERS, BLOOMBERG), or in the absence of such, the price disclosed by MBH Bank Plc.'s sub-depository for the last banking day of the fee calculation period; in the absence of which, the last available price disclosed by a professional data service provider (particularly, REUTERS, BLOOMBERG), or in the absence of such, by MBH Bank Plc.'s sub-depository.

The calculation of the portfolio fee:

$$\frac{M \cdot \bar{A} \cdot n \cdot d}{365}$$

where M= the average portfolio during the fee calculation period at face value
n= the number of the calendar days of the fee calculation period Á= the price of the security; in the case of face value, the price value is 100%
d= the annual rate of the fee

²The annual portfolio fee shall be calculated in HUF and include the fees for safekeeping and registration and the fee for issuing one account statement a month as specified in the Business Code.

MBH Bank Plc. categorises securities (debt securities, securities representing membership rights, collective investment) in accordance with Section 5 of Act CXX of 2001 (Capital Markets Act):

- debt securities, e.g.: government bonds, discount treasury bills, corporate bonds
- debt securities, e.g.: shares
- collective investment securities, e.g. investment units

³All of the accounts (e.g. consolidated securities account, blocked sub-account, coverage account etc.) managed by MBH Bank Plc. for one Customer under one contract in the context of investment services and ancillary services shall be regarded as one account.

CHAPTER FIVE

XVI. Information on the portfolio of deposits and securities secured by the National Deposit Insurance Fund

Dear Customer, Please be informed that if you call at our branch from 1 February 2011 you may ask for the current summary information on the portfolio of deposits and securities which you or your company placed with the Bank and which is secured by the National Deposit Insurance Fund.

XVII General provisions:

1. MBH Bank Plc. engages the following sub-depositaries in the performance of its standard deposit management activity:

1. KELER Központi Értéktár Zrt. (KELER Zrt.), Budapest
2. Bank of New York Mellon SA/NV, Brussels
3. Clearstream Banking Luxembourg

2. The securities that can be accepted for deposit management and/or distributed under commission agency or sale and purchase contracts by MBH Bank Plc.

1. Securities issued by the Hungarian State
2. securities issued by MBH Bank Plc.
3. Any security in relation to which MBH Bank Plc. acts as distributor in the course of its public or private offering under a contract concluded with the issuer
4. In addition to the above any securities traded on the Budapest Stock Exchange (BÉT)
5. Of the securities issued in the United States of America, Germany, Great Britain or France in US dollars (USD), euros (EUR) or in pounds sterling (GBP) those that are traded in the trading systems of the XETRA-Deutsche Börse³⁵ the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), the London Stock Exchange or Euronext, Paris.

Of the securities referred to in Sections 4 and 5 MBH Bank Plc. only accepts those, or accepts orders only for the trading of those, on which public data and information are available in the professional data service provider systems (e.g. BLOOMBERG, REUTERS) and which are liquid in the above mentioned trading systems.

In accordance with its Code of Practice on the Performance of investment service providing activities and the provision of ancillary services MBH Bank Plc. is under no obligation to accept the Customer's proposal for contracting.

3. Calculation of the uniform yield indicator

Pursuant to Government Decree 82/2010. (III.25.) on the calculation of deposit rates and securities' yields (Decree) the uniform yield indicator is calculated for debt securities and – in the case specified in the Decree – investment units on the basis of the following formula:

if the time to maturity is less than 365 days:	if the time to maturity is at least 365 days:
$\text{Eladási ár} = \sum_{i=1}^n \frac{(k + tt)_i}{1 + r \times (t_i / 365)}$	$\text{Eladási ár} = \sum_{i=1}^n \frac{(k + tt)_i}{(1 + r)^{(t_i / 365)}}$

4. Issuance of physical securities at a branch:

In the case of securities stored in MBH Bank Plc.'s own value repository on the first banking day following the notification of request, in branches in towns other than Budapest on the second banking day following the notification of request, in the case of securities stored by a sub-depositary (e.g. KELER Zrt) on the banking day following performance by the sub-depositary.

³⁴At present the Bank charges no fee for the service but reserves the right to alter the conditions.

³⁵ The Frankfurt-based XETRA is one of Europe's busiest trading platforms. Shares of all major European and US companies are being traded in its system.

5. Deposit management fees:

In the case of deposit management contracts (if no separate fee applies under the contract) the fees applied in the case of the consolidated securities account are charged.

6. The fees included in the list of conditions

The fees specified in the list of conditions – unless otherwise stipulated in the list of conditions – are the final and full prices of the services, regardless of whether in its performance MBH Bank Plc. engages or does not engage any third party provider.

MBH charges the fees in Hungarian forints to the Customer's customer account kept with the Bank. The Bank converts fees, commissions and costs denominated or charged in foreign currencies into forints at the official MNB exchange rate in place on the last working day of the given fee period in the case of portfolio fees, or on the day of charging, in the case of other cases.

If the Customer uses an MBH service package, the MBH Kivételes Current Account service, credit, loan or other service, the Bank provides the simultaneously used bank account management service, deposit management service, bank card services, telephone services or electronic services under the terms and conditions specified for such services in the relevant and effective lists of conditions, charging the fees and costs specified in the same. In case any such lists of conditions contains any reference in the case of any service to the Bank's standard retail/corporate terms and conditions, the Bank applies the terms and conditions and charges the fees and costs specified in the list of condition applying to the given service.

For any individual or one-off service deviating from the stipulations of the list of conditions the Bank will make an individual price quote.

7. Due dates of the fees:

- the portfolio fee and the fee for the posting of immediate notification are due and payable monthly (fee calculation period) or upon the termination or lapse of the account/contract.
- in the case of a custody contract the custody fee is due and payable on the last banking day of the calendar year or upon the termination or lapse of the contract,
- other fees and commissions are due and payable upon the execution of the transaction concerned.

The rate of the interest for late payment charged upon late payment of fees, commissions and costs payable to MBH, or any other debt accrued towards the Bank – items not regulated by the relevant contracts – equals, unless otherwise stipulated in a relevant contract, the default interest rate stipulated in the prevailing Civil Code.

8. Offsetting of money claims

As coverage for the Customer's payment orders and in exercising its right to offset the Customer's debt to the Bank as stipulated in Section 6:49 of the Civil Code and subsection 5.2.3 of the Bank's Code of Practice on Bank account keeping, deposit management and the related services, the Bank has the right to take into account and use the disposable balances on the customer accounts relating to the Customer's consolidated securities accounts as well.

The Bank reserves the right to establish individual commission and fee items and interest rates, to modify the list of conditions and to inform its customers of changes in its conditions in the way specified in its business code (in its premises open to customers).
